Arkansas Negroes Ask Action Now

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller asked Negro leaders Tuesday how to solve the plight of the Negro in Arkansas. They all called for more jobs and action now.

"Telling the poverty-stricken Negro to 'cool it' while planning goes on has become the age-old stall," said the Rev. William Johnson of Little Rock.

"Our's is to be about the business of doing something, not talk," Johnson said.

The Rev. James S. Allen, a Baptist minister, said mayors throughout the state should be told to practice fair employment, not just for the poor Negro but also for the poor whites.

"Negroes in the ghettos have lost faith in anything ever being done," Allen said.

Dr. Lawrence Davis, president of Arkansas AMAN College at Pine Bluff, told the governor that many of the 30 Negro leaders by virtue of their business or community standing were as remote from the core of unrest as the governor and the white community.

"They (the Negro masses) must help find the problem and help solve it," Davis said. "We need communication, dialogue and action. We've got to get the people busy solving the problem, not protesting it."

"This effort at dealing with the problem has to spread out among the people who are not classified or recognized as leaders," Davis said.

Bobby Brown, a poverty worker from Little Rock, told the governor that there were still Negroes "on the street who don't work and have power."

"There are the ones who can make or break what's happening here," Brown said.

Dr. Jerry Jewell, state president of the NAACP, asked Rockefeller to issue an executive order calling for fair employment practices for the entire state and that he present a fair housing bill to the special session of the legislature next month.

Jewell also rapped public utilities for their employment practices and asked Rockefeller to issue an executive order requiring them to "implement fair employment."

Elijah Coleman of the Arkansas Council on Human Relations urged Rockefeller to place 1,000 Negroes in the National Guard if he could get an increase in the quota from the federal government.

William L. "Sonny" Walker of Little Rock said the situation in Little Rock was "explosive" and he did not think "we can afford" a deferment.

Walker said the unemployed and underprivileged Negroes no longer had faith in "talk, talk, talk."

"The time has come for government to prove that nonviolence will work so we don't have to go out on the streets," said Duff Rogers, another anti-poverty worker.

Rockefeller invited the group to meet with the Governor's Commission on Human Relations at 2 p.m. April 18. He also said he was planning to meet with the Arkansas Municipal League and the state's Chambers of Commerce to discuss actions designed to alleviate any unfair employment practices in the state.

Hanoi Wants Talks in Cambodia

The Hanoi government is holding out for Cambodia as the site of first talks designed to lead the way to peace in the Vietnam war.

North Vietnamese sources in Phnom Penh, the Cambodian capital, told an AP reporter there today that Cambodia's willingness to welcome the negotiators makes it unnecessary to look elsewhere. Earlier, Hanoi had suggested that the talks be held in Phnom Penh "or any other mutually agreeable place" in Asia.

The Hungarian news agency, in a dispatch from Hanoi, said "political circles here term it absolutely incomprehensible that the Americans are reluctant to send their representatives to Phnom Penh."

The United States has no diplomatic relations with Cambodia, and has suggested that lack of adequate communications from that city weighed against a meeting there.

Controversy over the site is the first roadblock in getting the talks under way. Hanoi has said the talks will be concerned only with arranging a full halt to air and sea attacks against North Vietnam. This, Hanoi insists, must precede any full-scale talks for peace.

President Johnson said Tuesday he had sent another message to Hanoi, and that the parties were discussing alternative locations, convenient to both sides, for the first talks. This message apparently was delivered today in Vientiane, Laos.

At the same time, the South Koreans, a U.S. ally in Vietnam, were voicing reservations about the trend toward negotiations.

Li Gen. Chue Myung-shin, commander of South Korean forces in Vietnam, said in Seoul: "It was shocking to me, as it was to the Republic of Vietnam people, that Washington-Hanoi contacts for peace talks came at a time when only a little more push is needed to win the war."

Haydon Gets GOP Opponent

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — L. E. "Ed" Dorrell, administrative officer of the state Pollution Control Commission, Tuesday became the first Republican to file for state representative for a position now held by a Democrat.

ABC Cancels Beer License of 2 Places

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Alcoholic Beverage Control Director Harrel Hughes said Tuesday that beer licenses for two Jackson County establishments have been suspended and the license of another canceled.

Hughes issued the orders after separate hearings for the owners and on the recommendations of Prosecutor David Hodges, Newport Police Chief Tom Stroud and Sheriff Ralph Henderson.

Found guilty of permitting the Clover Club to become disorderly was Quilton R. Wigton, club operator, who had his license suspended for two weeks.

Hughes suspended the license for Fortune's Pool Hall at Newport for two weeks of selling alcoholic beverages to a minor and placed the operator, Bobby Fortune, on six months probation.

Hughes cancelled a beer license issued to Don Washam, former owner of the Silver Moon Club near Newport. Hughes said the new owner, Jack Brinsfield, had failed to make an application for a license in his own name and had sold beer to a minor.

Generally Fair Skies in Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Generally fair skies with temperatures in the 70s and low 80s are forecast for Arkansas through Friday.

Light and variable winds should make the weather good for fishermen. The rivers and lakes are still a little high and dingy in places, but they are receding and should clear rapidly.

Under the warm sunshine, water temperature will rise slowly toward summertime conditions.

Another cold front is forming to the northwest and may affect Arkansas' weekend weather. Little shower activity, however, is associated with the front.

High temperatures Tuesday ranged from 76 at Fort Smith to 61 at El Dorado. Overnight lows ranged from 56 at Texarkana to 41 at Batesville.

Rainfall reported for the 24-hour period ending at 6 a.m. today included .06 of an inch at El Dorado.

Many Feared Lost in New Zealand Wreck

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (AP) — At least 40 persons were drowned today when a big oceangoing ferry ran aground with 614 persons aboard and sank during one of the fiercest storms ever to lash New Zealand.

Twelve hours after the sinking of the 8,944-ton Wahine, the search for survivors and bodies in the waters of Wellington Harbor continued under floodlights.

The first police report of casualties said at least 40 persons were dead, but it appeared the total would rise.

Survivors were scattered all over Wellington, in hospitals and public buildings.

Compilation of lists of the dead, missing and rescued proceeded slowly.

CLARKSVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Carl Gene Colburn, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Colburn of Mishawaka, Ind., accidentally drowned Tuesday in a eight-foot of water about 15 feet from the bank in a stock pond.

Wants Audit of School Records

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Dr. Dale Cowling, president of the Pulaski County School Board, called Tuesday night for an audit of the records of special activities of the district's 42 schools.

Cowling said he had "heard rumblings of discrepancies in the finances of certain schools" and that he thought the board had a responsibility to make the audit "to exonerate anyone who has been falsely accused."

The board voted unanimously for the audit and instructed School Supt. Leroy Gattin to begin immediately having the records collected and delivered to the district's administrative office.

All records except those from Jacksonville High School were accounted for before the meeting adjourned shortly before night. The Jacksonville records were expected to be in early today.

Negro Held in Shooting of Officer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Patrolman C. E. Thomas, 28, was shot twice early today after he and another policeman stopped two Negro men in a car for questioning in east Little Rock.

Little Rock police said later this morning that Albert R. Brown, 38, Negro of Little Rock was arrested and charged with assault with intent to kill in connection with the shooting.

Officers said Brown was captured in a parked car and said he offered no resistance.

Officers were still searching for the second suspect.

Police Chief R. E. Briens said Thomas was in fair condition at a Little Rock hospital after being struck by bullets in the right leg and left arm.

Briens said Thomas and Patrolman J. D. Seats stopped the car, noticed that one man had a fire tool and the other was wearing wet clothing and decided to search them.

When the two got out, one of them got behind Seats and took Seats' service pistol out of his holster, Briens said. Thomas drew his pistol and exchanged shots with the man who fired at him.

Briens said both Thomas and the man fell to the ground, but that the man got up and ran off with Seats' pistol.

information officer for the U.S. Command, said Toan Thang is "only a continuation of what we were doing. It is designed to clear the enemy out and keep them on the run."

The U.S. Command said the aim of the new drive is "the elimination of enemy forces throughout the 11 provinces in the 3rd Corps tactical zone."

The operation involves three U.S. divisions and the equivalent of a fourth, three South Vietnamese divisions, two South Vietnamese paratroop and marine task forces, the 1st Australian Task Force, which includes New Zealand troops, and the Royal Thai Army Regiment.

There was no report of casualties so far in the operation.

No major ground fighting was reported elsewhere in Vietnam for the second straight day, and for the first time in nearly three months no single enemy mortar, rocket or artillery round landed on the shell-scarred Marine combat base at Khe Sanh over a 24-hour period. From Jan. 21 until Tuesday, North Vietnamese gunners had kept up a relentless daily shelling, sometimes as many as 1,500 rounds in one day, sometimes as few as 50.

The big U.S. B52 Stratofortresses flew four raids in the central highlands Tuesday night, attacking close to the Cambodian border amid evidence of a North Vietnamese buildup there. New supply roads and infiltration trails winding in from Cambodia have been spotted.

The curtailed U.S. air campaign against North Vietnam continued Tuesday with pilots staying below the 19th Parallel for the sixth consecutive day.

Negotiation in Memphis Strike Resumes

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Negotiators in the 39-day-old sanitation strike which brought Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. to the city where he was assassinated returned to the bargaining table today.

There were indications that agreement was near.

The session was the third involving under secretary of labor James Reynolds, assigned by President Johnson to help mediate the dispute, and the first since early Monday, when negotiators broke off a 20-hour session.

The bargaining teams said the marathon session had produced new degrees of harmony, and sources close to the talks said that the two primary issues—dues checkoff and union recognition—were near resolution.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Television permitted all the people of the nation to attend both the private and the public funeral services for Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Tuesday.

The three major networks began coverage at 10 a.m. EST, at a time when masses of quiet, orderly people were pressing toward the doors of Atlanta's Ebenezer Baptist Church in such numbers that the viewer frequently feared for the safety of dignitaries, celebrities and private citizens struggling toward the doors.

Television cameras seemed to be everywhere. Viewers had a closeup of the church services, of the sober crowds marching quietly with the coffin in its mule-drawn cart, of the enormous gathering at the public services. There were many highly emotional moments, climaxed at the end of the services when all joined hands to sing "We Shall Overcome."

Both services were marked by simplicity and great dignity. Events of such magnitude are not easy for television to cover, but the networks over the years have developed a special and admirable expertise. The reporters' greatest problem was filling the time between the conclusion of the church services and the beginning of the outdoor services four miles distant.

The coverage was, on all three networks, tasteful and efficient public service.

ABC's special, "The Comedy of Ernie Kovacs," was a merry and nostalgic hour.

Kovacs died more than six years ago, but the show, consisting of tape and film of his work compiled by his widow, Edie Adams, treated his humor as if it had been made yesterday. To tell the truth, if some of his wit and humor seemed a little stale, it is because he has so many imitators today.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

WANTS A SOCIETY FOR THE PREVENTION OF CRUELTY TO CHILDREN

Dear Helen: Where in our country is there a Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children?

My little grandson lives with his mother who lives with a man who isn't her husband. She farms the boy but to his grandmother—her mother—a harridan whose dyed red hair and make-up-caked face scares him when he looks at her. They won't let me near him, as I'm his paternal grandmother, and I sided with my son.

When I try to get the boy back to decent surroundings, his mother moves again. She is living with a married man, and from what I hear, it's a wild, drinking life. I don't care if she ruins herself, but I do care about my grandson.

What can I do? —GRAND-MOTHER

Dear Grandmother: Where is your son—the boy's father? Surely you and he together can manage a court order which will bring him custody—especially if you promise to provide a good home for him.

The Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Children is your local Child Welfare Agency. Get in touch! —H

Dear Helen: I am a married woman with three children and a wonderful husband who works long hours for us.

But I have an almost irresistible urge to get involved with another man. He is quite attractive and quite married too.

We have met several times and I enjoyed every minute. We haven't done wrong, but we talk about it constantly. He's been urging me to "let myself go" ever since January.

What bothers me is that I sincerely love my husband and wouldn't ever want to hurt him. The thought of divorce chills me.

How can I possibly want two men? —MRS. TWO-FACED

Dear Mrs. T.F.: Because at certain dull times in their lives, women are no more monogamous than men. Almost every wife, if she's honest, will admit to a bit of extra-curricular dreaming. Should a charmer turn up at one of these times, she'll be tempted: Through him, she sees herself as a desirable, seductive female, and she needs that feeling to counteract ironing board blues.

Fact is, Mrs. Two-Faced, if you really wanted an affair, you'd have had it before now. You love your husband far too much to hurt him, but you're in love with the excitement of the chase—and you're taking a awful chance!

Get back to all-out wifehood with those six words: "The thought of divorce chills me." And by reminding yourself you risk it every time you meet the other man.

Then try a little seduction where it belongs—on your husband! —H

Dear Helen: Some time ago I loaned some expensive maternity clothes to a friend on condition that they be returned when she was through with them.

When I finally asked for them back (as I needed them), she said she had had them altered to fit her. She did manage to send me two skirts, but have you ever seen a very mini-skirted pregnant woman? I haven't heard from her since. What burns me is she had so many clothes she didn't need mine. But I need them badly. My husband and I aren't all that

Bobcats in Good Track Showing

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

Competing for the first time in the highly-rated Crossett Relays last weekend, the Hope High tracksters made a good showing for themselves.

Highlighting the action was James Rowe's ten-yard victory in the mile run. Rowe, just a junior, finished hard for a fine 4:42.0, bettering his own school record by five seconds, and he has to be regarded as a real surprise with an improvement of over 15 seconds since the first of the season.

Every bit as newsworthy was Buzz Andrews' performance in the hurdles. Winning the 120 highs, Buzz flashed to a 15.1 in winning easily, which should improve his state ranking. But he bettered his previous best this year by still more in the 180 lows, winning in 20.3, which is barely a second over the top time in the state this spring.

Freshman Gary Wheelington ran 'em off the track in the junior 100 yard dash, streaking to a 10.7 time, tying the school record set last year by John Spraggins. Wheelington also anchors the 440 and 880 relay teams, and has pulled off several wins this season.

The 4-4A golf and track championships will take place on Saturday, April 27 with Magnolia High School as host. MHS has a spanking-new track in its new stadium, which is a beautiful facility. And their Magnolia Country Club, which has recently been enlarged to 18 holes, is regarded as one of the toughest around.

At this early date Crossett would have to be favored to win the track title again with its depth and relay strength. And Magnolia is the pick to defend its golf championship with the return of last year's individual medalist, Sid Moore. Magnolia will take on the Hope golf team next Tuesday on the Hope course, which should provide a reading on the locals' chances at the district crown.

The HHS golfers' record now stands at 3-4, after losses by 11-7 to Fordyce at Fordyce CC last Saturday and by 14-3 to unbeaten state AAA champ El Dorado on the Hope course Monday afternoon. However, the locals' scoring has been much improved just this week, with seniors Terry Hairr and Sidney Hollis along with junior Danny Reyenga and sophomore Ralph Rounton in the top four spots.

Baseball to Open Play Today

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer

The St. Louis Cardinals' World Series line-up should be intact for their belated baseball opener tonight but the Los Angeles Dodgers will be starting a 1968 comeback drive without Manager Walter Alston.

Atlanta takes on the world champion Cardinals at St. Louis, Philadelphia visits the Dodgers and Pittsburgh is at Houston in arclight games, completing a full season-opening slate after two days of postponements.

In National League daytime inaugurals—deferred until this afternoon in respect to the memory of Dr. Martin Luther King—the New York Mets were at San Francisco and the Chicago Cubs at Cincinnati.

Washington met Minnesota in the traditional presidential opener, with Vice President Humphrey expected to throw out the first ball as a replacement for work-laden President Johnson. Boston was at Detroit, Cleveland at Chicago, Oakland at Baltimore and California at New York in other American League opening games.

Roger Maris' recovery from a groin injury has virtually assured the Cardinals of beginning the season with the same cast that took the final game of the 1967 Series from the Red Sox. Maris will bat in the No. 3 spot, ahead of National League MVP Orlando Cepeda, as the Cards open with bullet Bob Gibson opposing the Braves' Pat Jarvis.

Alston, 56-year-old dean of major league managers, underwent successful surgery Tuesday night for removal of kidney stones. He's expected to be missing from the dugout for the first three weeks of his 15th season as the Dodgers' skipper. Coaches Jim Gilliam, Preston Gomez, Danny Ozark and Lefty Phillips will direct the club in Alston's absence.

The Dodgers reset their opener from Tuesday night after Philadelphia announced it would forfeit the game rather than play on the date of Dr. King's funeral.

The Senators-Twins opener, also pushed back from Monday in the wake of racial disturbances in the nation's capitol, pit-ted Washington's Camilo Pascual against Dean Chance of Minnesota in a right-handers' battle.

Minnesota, one of the preseason AL favorites, and the Senators, eyeing a first division finish under new skipper Jim Lemon, met in D.C. Stadium, where federal troops on riot control duty were headquartered Tuesday.

At Baltimore, another city disrupted by violence after the assassination of Dr. King, young Tom Phoebus pitched for the Orioles against Oakland's Catfish Hunter. Baltimore started the season without pitcher Pete Rickett and shortstop Mark Belanger, who were called up by the National Guard because of the racial unrest.

Canadiens Have Boston in a Hole

By HAL BOCK

Associated Press Sports Writer

The Montreal Canadiens have Boston in an awfully deep hole. The New York Rangers, who know what it's like down there, are trying to dig one just like it for the Chicago Black Hawks.

Montreal dropped Boston to the brink of elimination in the National Hockey League's best-of-7 Eastern Division playoffs with their third straight victory over the Bruins, 5-2 Tuesday night.

The Rangers, meanwhile, who were eliminated in four straight games by the Canadiens last year, whipped Chicago 2-1 for their second straight victory over the Black Hawks.

In the only other playoff game played, the Minnesota North Stars walloped Los Angeles 7-5 leaving the Kings still in front 2-1 in their best-of-7 Western Division series. Philadelphia and St. Louis, tied 1-1 in games, were idle.

The Canadiens won after some spectacular first-period goaltending by Gump Worsley took the wind out of Boston's strong start.

Worsley yielded an early goal by Ed Westfall but then held the Bruins off and Jean Beliveau's power play goal got the Canadiens even.

The Canadiens then packed goals by Claude Provost, Ralph Backstrom and John Ferguson into the second period and coasted after that.

Bucks Made Miserable by Chaparrals

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The New Orleans Buccaneers strode into the den of the Dallas Chaparrals and, like everyone else, had a miserable time.

The Chaparrals, a team of homebodies, made the Bucks their 15th straight home court victim Tuesday night and evened their American Basketball League playoff series at 1-1.

Dallas fought off a desperate last period rally by New Orleans for a 112-109 victory in the best-of-7 Western Division final set, and the Buccaneers won't get out of Dallas until after tonight's third game.

Pittsburgh and Minnesota, also tied at 1-1, resume their Eastern Division final series tonight in Minnesota.

The National Basketball Association also begins play again tonight with Philadelphia at Boston and San Francisco at Los Angeles.

The Celtics will be trying to retain the home court advantage they gained last Friday by beating the defending champion 76ers in Philadelphia.

"Sometimes there is a tendency to let down at home, and if we let down any tonight we are in trouble," said Boston captain John Havlicek before the second game of the best-of-7 Eastern Division final series.

Los Angeles also holds a 1-0 lead in their best-of-7 set for the Western Division playoff title.

Sports World Ends Tribute to Dr. King

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The sports world ended its three-day tribute to Dr. Martin Luther King today. Race tracks reopened, the major league baseball season started and numerous other scattered events resumed.

Pro hockey and pro basketball playoffs, halted for two days, resumed Tuesday night along with Yonkers, N.Y., Raceway and Liberty Bell in Philadelphia.

Ten baseball openers, seven in the afternoon and three tonight, were scheduled, but Baltimore postponed its Thursday night game against Oakland because of racial disturbances in Baltimore.

York's winner, a backhander that got between Chicago goalie Denis DeJordy and the post with less than 7 1/2 minutes left in the game.

Minnesota, down two games to Los Angeles, fell behind 3-1 against the Kings, but rallied to win the pivotal third game.

Bill Collins scored twice for Minnesota as the steady North Star attack wore down goalie Terry Sawchuk, who had stifled Minnesota in the first two games of the series.

Somber Air as Masters Meet Nears

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Sports Writer

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — A somber, restrained air surrounds the opening of the 32nd Masters Golf Tournament Thursday, with Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer, as usual, ranking favorites.

Neither of the giants of the game was especially pleased with his game, however, while defending champion Gay Brewer was downright dismayed.

"I just can't putt," said Brewer, who hasn't won since taking the 1967 title. "The rest of my game is good enough, I suppose, but I just can't sink a putt. I can't seem to get my mind on it."

Palmer and Nicklaus had their chronic complaints. Palmer said he couldn't putt. Nicklaus said he couldn't drive.

Despite their troubles, they've won seven of the last 10 Masters, and easily rank as the men to beat in the relatively small field of 76 of the world's best.

But even their magic presence on the lushly green Augusta National Course Tuesday—both were late arrivals—failed to generate the excitement usually connected with this, the first of the world's four major tournaments.

The crowds for the practice rounds were small and subdued. Palmer, amazingly, walked through a crowd unnoticed when he first reached the course.

Both Palmer and Nicklaus admitted they are pointing for this Masters. Each feels he needs it.

Nicklaus, the 210-pound Ohio strongboy who has won all the world's major titles, practically owned the Masters crown until he fell apart last year and failed to make the cut. He had won three of the four previous Masters and set the scoring record.

Palmer, the only four time winner, feels he is overdue.

Among the other favorites are Billy Casper, two-time U.S. Open champion and winner of last week's rain-delayed Greensboro Open; flashy Doug Sanders, and England's Tony Jacklin, a 23-year-old who won the Jacksonville Open.

The final two rounds Saturday and Sunday will be televised nationally by CBS. The Saturday telecast will start at 3:30 p.m., EST. Sunday's round will be shown 4-5:30 p.m., EST.

Bart Starr Is Teaming With Bears

By JAMES R. POLK

Associated Press Sports Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Green Bay's Bart Starr is teaming up with the Bears.

Not the arch enemy Chicago Bears, but their fuzzy four-footed forerunners.

Starr's guest appearance this month in a television series built around a boy and his bear is all a part of the second season of a pro football quarter-back.

This January-through-June second season can mean as much work, more travel and perhaps even more money than the first—if the first was successful.

Baltimore's Johnny Unitas, the NFL Player-of-the-Year, has flown from New York to California to Florida in the last three months, making paid personal appearances. Last Thursday night he was back in Baltimore to open his plus new suburban restaurant, the Golden Arm.

Starr, the impeccable Packer quarterback who guided Green Bay to an unprecedented third straight NFL title, criss-crosses the country in promoting soft drinks, sporting goods and cars.

Washington's Sonny Jurgensen, who shattered NFL season records for passing yardage and completions last fall, spends his off-season in business investments, buying property and building what he calls "tax shelters."

Each is reluctant to say how much extra income is involved in the second season, but Starr volunteers, "I'm happy with the arrangement."

Starr is in the first year of a five-year contract with a soft drink bottling company.

Unitas makes two-day appearances before schools and youth groups in various cities as a fashion representative for a large chain store. In recent weeks he has traveled to Virginia, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Florida, Missouri, Louisiana and California.

Starr will fly to Florida to start filming an appearance on the television show, Gentle Ben, after Easter. He'll be teaming with the four bears used to portray the namesake of the series.

What Masters Means to Stars

By IRA BERKOW

NEA Sports Writer

NEW YORK—(NEA)—To a basketball player, it's playing in Madison Square Garden. To a baseball player, it's the World Series. To a football player, it's a Bowl Game. And to a golfer, it's the Masters at Augusta's National Golf Club.

Following are excerpts from letters by some of golf's greatest stars written to Tournament Chairman Clifford Roberts and Club President Bobby Jones. What they said in the past is equally pertinent on the eve of the 1968 Masters.

Byron Nelson, winner in 1942 (Jan. 1, 1946): "It seems the Masters always produces something unusual. . . . Sarazen's double eagle and many other notable highlights. I made my principal contribution to the Augusta Record Book in 1942. At least it was the best golf, all things considered, of my career. I refer, of course, to the stretch of golf I played during the play-off with Ben Hogan, beginning with the 6th hole and ending with the 17th."

Ben Hogan, two-time winner (Jan. 12, 1954): "Today I received my invitation to the 1954 Masters Tournament. . . . It brings back memories of the time I received my first invitation back in 1938. Prior to that year I remember hoping and praying that my game and record would qualify me for this much-prized invitation."

This same thought is going through the minds of many young golfers today and I know exactly how they feel. For you see, now 16 years later, I still experience the same thrill of pride when my invitation arrives. . . . The Augusta National is one of the few courses that can give me real pleasure in playing the day after the tournament ends."

Sam Snead, three-time winner (Jan. 2, 1956): "I know as well as anybody that there is always a lot of pressure in a Masters Tournament but, making full allowance for the tension, this is by far the most enjoyable competition in big-time golf."

National is a tourney that a fellow enjoys playing even when Ole Man Par is giving you a going over."

Arnold Palmer, four-time winner (Jan. 10, 1961): "It is extremely difficult, if not impossible, for me to put into words what I feel about the Masters Tournament and the Augusta National Golf Course. I can recall that as a young boy, prior to attending Wake Forest College, the Masters was something I read about in the papers, and it was my burning ambition to some day be able to play the great course, particularly as a participant in the tournament."

"One incident in particular stands out in my memory. The Wake Forest golf team was scheduled to play a spring match in Georgia. In an effort to get to the Masters, we offered our services to officials in charge. Unfortunately for us, arrangements had already been made, and our offer was turned down. To say that we were disappointed would be a mild understatement."

Gary Player, winner in 1961 (April 18, 1961): "As you know, I made a special trip from Johannesburg (South Africa) five years ago to respond to my first invitation to play in the Masters. . . . In my travels I have visited practically every country in the world where the game of golf is played. I can assure you that the Masters Tournament everywhere serves as an inspiration to young golfers."

Jack Nicklaus, three-time winner (April 20, 1965): "Playing in the Masters was a lifelong ambition and a thrill in itself. When I won it the first time (1963), I thought that it would be the biggest thrill I would ever have. However, my win this year has surpassed all my thrills in golf."

Augusta National is my favorite course and the Masters my favorite golf tournament. I feel the Masters is a monument to everything great in golf."

Fire Turned Out for Best

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of the hundreds of fires that swept sections of the nation's capital after violence broke out last Thursday night destroyed the four-room apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Lacy Everett, parents of five.
A social agency helping the several hundred people made homeless by similar fires found the Everetts a new place to live — a three-story, white brick row house at $9 less rent a month and with two more bedrooms than they had.
"I'm sorry things happened like this, the fire and all," said Mrs. Everett Tuesday. "But I've been wanting a house for a long time."

Crisp bright hats... so right for sparkling spring! Assorted straws in spring garden colors—solids and 2-tones each styled with distinction and artfully touched with patent or grosgrain ribbon. Some are a froth of flowers in white, pastels, multi-hues or carousel straws in fashion colors and styles. Still others in Swiss straws, becoming wide brims with the "soft, floppy" look and high crown styles.

Blood Sugar Level Tests Made on Empty Stomach

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—What is the normal blood sugar level? Why must the blood be drawn on an empty stomach? If a blood sugar test taken after a meal is 170 and there is no sugar in the urine, does this mean my diabetes is under control?

A—The normal fasting blood sugar range is 80 to 90 milligrams (120 is sometimes given as the absolute upper limit). In most tests, the fasting level is determined because it gives the most consistent and significant results. Since the so-called threshold level, or level at which the blood sugar spills over into the urine, is 180, a level of 170 after a meal would be consistent with a sugar-free urine and would indicate that at the time of the test the diabetes was controlled.

Q—I was told that my blood sugar level is borderline high. Is there anything I should do to prevent diabetes?

A—You do not need insulin or other drugs but you should have your doctor prescribe a diabetic diet based on your weight and caloric needs. This is usually all that is needed in the treatment of mild or borderline diabetics.

Q—I am taking Orinase for my diabetes. My blood sugar is around 105 and there is no sugar in my urine. Can the blood sugar get too low? I am very nervous.

A—A level of 105 is approaching the upper limit of normal. The blood sugar level can go too low (50 to 70) and this may cause nervousness but, without further proof, other causes for your nervousness should be considered.

Q—I have read that chromium is helpful for diabetes. Why doesn't my doctor prescribe it?

A—I can find no evidence that chromium is helpful for any disease. Perhaps that is why your doctor doesn't prescribe it. Radioactive chromium is being used experimentally in the treatment of cancer.

Q—Can an obese person who is a diabetic and has a high blood pressure safely

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

All that prevents the earth from being showered by some 8 billion meteors daily is friction caused by a meteor's passage through the earth's atmosphere, which burns up all but the largest five or six a day, says The World Almanac. A meteor is any cosmic solid that enters the earth's atmosphere and is in the process of burning up. Before entering the earth's atmosphere, meteors are called meteoroids.

Delinquency Fight Drags in Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A consultant to the United States Children's Bureau told the Arkansas Training School Board Tuesday that the state was "dragging its feet in this war to combat juvenile delinquency."

Raymond L. Menella of Washington, D.C., who was asked by the board to help it work out a plan for desegregating the four training schools to comply with a federal court order and reorganize the training program, said, however, that other states had similar problems.

Manella said the formation of a diagnostic and classification center through which all juveniles committed would be channeled, was an important innovation, which the board had already proposed.

The consultant visited the four schools and said he would send his suggestions to the board in a few days.

Honorary Colonels Hurt

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — New Mexico Secretary of State Ernestine Evans, a Democrat, says the number of honorary colonels in the state is damaging her budget.

She says Republican Gov. David Cargo has commissioned 4,600 honorary colonels as aide de camp to the governor since he took office in January 1967. He sent another batch of 250 commissions to her office this week, she says.

The Senate has jurisdiction over U.S. treaties.

No More Rooms for Olympics

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
MEXICO CITY (AP) — If you don't have a room already reserved for the Olympic Games here in October, you're out of luck.

Ramon Alatorre, director of the government's lodging control office, said, "We've been putting all new requests on a waiting list since April 1." The chances of getting off the list and into a room are nil, he added.

Death Row Sentences Are Stayed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Sentences of all inmates on death row at Tucker Prison Farm will be stayed until the U.S. Supreme Court rules on the use of capital punishment, Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller said Tuesday.

Rockefeller also expressed disappointment that Arkansas had not entered into such a case now before the high court from several states.

The question of the stay arose at the governor's meeting with Negro leaders Tuesday when attorney Edward Trimble asked Rockefeller if he would commute the sentences of three of his Negro clients on death row. "I can assure you those sentences will be stayed until we see how the Supreme Court rules," Rockefeller said. "I will not set a date for an execution."

Omen of Spring;
We Draw a Reply
on Interstate 30

Wildlife reacts to Spring more violently than our domestic creatures — something I found out yesterday while checking the buds on young trees in the "back 40" behind my house.

I have a mated pair of Canadian Honkers that are inseparable — but yesterday only the gander was in view, and he was putting on an odd-ball act. The minute he spotted me he lowered his neck like a vacuum-cleaner hose, virtually scoured the ground with it, and jerked his head back and forth uttering the Canada Goose's musical bleat.

I took it for a tentative declaration of war — and my diagnosis was correct. Beyond him I spotted his mate hunkered down in the spot of roughage which is preserved for the Mallards and geese in the hatching period. I tried to bypass him and go toward the nest, but he broke into a run, got ahead of me, blocked the way — and I turned back without discovering how many eggs were in his mate's nest.

Historically this is important. Two seasons ago there were 18 eggs apparently laid jointly by the Canadian and white domestic geese, and 22 eggs last season — and I never got a gosling. The Canadian and domestic hens took turns hatching, but in both seasons the bossy domestic hen, "Mrs. Grundy," eventually took charge — and botched the job. Her mate, "General deGaulle," stood guard valiantly, but that didn't help either.

So this year I resolved to farm out the white domestic pair to some friends during the hatching season and give the Canadian pair a fair chance. The time has arrived, I discovered yesterday.

Our "rumor" item in this column Monday about river damage to the unpaved roadway on Interstate 30's approach to the Ouachita River bridge between Malvern and Arkadelphia was confirmed yesterday by U.S. Bureau of Public Roads and State Highway Department statements from Little Rock.

Officials disclaimed our phrase on a suspected "engineering error" — but the essential facts were admitted. There was a landslide last fall where the road's approach borders the river; this Spring the construction men are still battling it, and a six-mile gap remains to be paved — meaning that opening of the Malvern-Arkadelphia section of Interstate 30 is a full year away.

Which contrasts with published statements only a few months ago that the road would be opened before this Summer — justifying your newspaper in asking that someone correct the public record. And this has been done, bad as the news is.

Your editor doesn't claim to be qualified to judge highway engineering, but any citizen can measure the difference between promise and performance in public works. As the wit put it, you don't have to be a hen to be a judge of omelets.

Just for the record I am going to forecast future trouble on the low-level dump which carries Interstate 30 across Red River bottoms west of Fulton, which dump is considerably below the level of U.S. 67 that runs parallel.

This newspaper tried to rally Southwest Arkansas against the low-level Interstate 30 bridge at Fulton because it would block eventual barge navigation on the river, but we got no help in our fight. The bridge and the roadway west of it were built as low-level structures, I suspect that some day Red River, most treacherous stream in North America, will demonstrate that this, too, was an "engineering error."

Independent gasoline distributors here added $1,000 to the fund as an incentive for someone with information about the killing to pass the information to the police.

Passage of Rights Bill Is Likely

By JOHN BECKLER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the House Rules Committee, a Mississippi Democrat opposed to the civil rights bill, says enactment of the measure would be a direct result of Dr. Martin Luther King's slaying.

The House is to vote today on the bill — which includes a provision to ban discrimination in the sale or rental of about 80 per cent of the nation's housing — and most predictions are it will win passage and be sent to President Johnson for signing.

"I am confident that on Thursday before Dr. Martin Luther King was assassinated, the administration and the leadership did not have the votes," said Chairman William M. Colmer after the bill was cleared in the committee on a 9 to 6 vote and sent to the floor.

Colmer also told newsmen Tuesday he thinks the measure would instead have gone to a House-Senate conference committee charged with working out a compromise — particularly on the controversial open-housing provision.

Colmer called it "legislating under the gun" to consider the bill so soon after King's slaying. But the bill's supporters were predicting before King's death last Thursday that the legislation would be enacted in its present form.

Only one hour has been allotted for debate before the voting begins. But with many delaying devices available to opponents, it could be late today before the issue is settled.

Provisions in the bill, particularly the open-housing section, have been the subject of talk for nearly two years in either the House or Senate. In 1966 the House passed an open-housing bill but the Senate refused to take it up.

Two other sections of the bill, one designed to protect civil rights workers and the other to make inciting a riot a federal crime, passed the House last year.

Spring Is the Time of Year When Many Things Make Life Worth Living

By HAL ROYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Things that make life worth living:

Children skipping rope to a chant their grandmothers knew when young. The healing of a wound and the falling off of an ugly scab. New hopes in a new spring. A line of daffodils making a yellow bonfire along a green hedge.

The sound of gospel singing in a weathered rural church. Old ladies with fat arms leaning on pillows in tenement windows to get a breath of April air and see what's stirring on the streets below. Colts frolicking before a wind ripping across an emerald pasture. The twilight sound of bells, ringing from far away.

Tossing a stone into a small lake at dusk and wondering if the spreading ripples will undulate forever. Consoling a sobbing baby after it falls down and hurts itself, or gets soap-suds in its eyes while taking a bath. Finding the paycheck unexpectedly larger by a few dollars, and deciding that maybe the boss isn't such a forgetful ogre after all.

Painting an old boat and planning on all the fish you'll catch from it come summer. The delicious ecstasy of taking a hot shower after a day-long hike through the woods.

The red thrill of the first strawberries of the season upon the breakfast plate. Hitting a 200-yard drive over a golf course water hazard, or seeing Mickey Mantle or Willie Mays jog around the base paths after

Tributes to King Rarely Matched

By DON MCKEE
Associated Press Writer

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Uniformed police stood watch today at the tomb of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., the slain civil rights leader whose funeral brought outpourings of mourners and tributes rarely matched in the nation's history.

Mourners trickled into South View Cemetery for a look at the crypt even after darkness fell Tuesday. Inscribed on the Georgia marble are the words of an old slave song often quoted by King: "Free at Last, Free at Last; Thank God Almighty, I'm Free at Last."

A police official said the guards were posted as a precaution, and there had been no hint of attempts to molest the grave. King, 39, was killed by a sniper in Memphis, Tenn. He had returned for another march of striking garbage workers after an earlier march erupted into rioting.

His followers called for the nation to look at itself anew as they pledged at the final rites to carry out his crusade against racism, poverty and injustice.

"Let us see to it that we do not dishonor his name by trying to solve our problems through rioting in the streets," urged Dr. Benjamin E. Mays, retired president of Morehouse College, King's alma mater, where outdoor services were held.

"But let us see to it also that the conditions that cause riots are promptly removed," said Mays. "Let black and white alike search their hearts; and if there be any prejudice in our hearts against any racial or ethnic group, let us exterminate it."

Mays, who taught King in college, said the American people, including Memphis officials, are in part responsible for the assassination.

trois decreased, fresh outbreaks hit Tuesday in Trenton, N.J., Jacksonville, Fla., and Kansas City. Each city reported one death.

Firemen in New York City battled 25 fires which broke out almost simultaneously in a racially mixed Brooklyn slum which has twice been the scene of disturbances since King's murder in Memphis last Thursday.

In Newark firefighters responded to six major fires and 75 minor ones in the first incidents of arson reported in the heavily Negro Central Ward since last summer's riots.

But many Negroes helped firemen to carry hoses and authorities sent sound trucks through the streets broadcasting recordings of King's "I have a dream" speech.

Meanwhile calm generally prevailed in the stricken neighborhoods of Chicago and Pittsburgh and officials in Washington and Baltimore expressed cautious optimism that violence in their cities may have run its course.

In Kansas City one Negro was killed, at least 35 persons injured and more than 175 arrested in a night of shooting, burning and looting that followed in the wake of a memorial march for King.

Some 2,200 National Guardsmen were dispatched to aid city and state police but the combined force of 3,300 did not control the outbreaks until after midnight.

Special Gifts Only $1 Million From Citizens Debt Hits $61 Billion

By JOSEPH R. COYNE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government's special gift fund to help reduce the national debt has collected its first $1 million from the citizenry after almost seven years of operation.

But it hardly kept pace with the ever-swelling debt—now about $61 billion larger than it was when the special fund was set up by law on June 27, 1961.

Treasury officials said Tuesday they had collected $1,021,500.65 in gifts for debt retirement through the end of last month.

Obviously the fund isn't designed to wipe out the entire debt which is now more than $350 billion. It's simply a handy

Troops Fan Out in Allied Offensive

By GEORGE ESPER

SAIGON (AP) — More than 100,000 troops of five nations fanned out today over the Saigon area and 11 provinces around the capital in the biggest allied offensive of the war. Only light, scattered action was reported, and a general lull in the ground fighting in Vietnam continued for the second day.

The U.S. Command announced that the big new sweep around the capital, Operation Toa Thang, or Complete Victory, began Monday. Its objective is the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops who got away from the 50,000 American and South Vietnamese troops in Operation Quyet Thang, or Resolved to Win.

U.S. headquarters announced Tuesday that Quyet Thang, a sweep of five provinces around Saigon, had ended with 2,658 enemy killed. But when it began early in March, a force of 13,000 Viet Cong and units of two North Vietnamese regiments were reported maneuvering around the capital, possibly for a renewal of the Tet offensive against the city.

U.S. spokesmen explained that Quyet Thang and all other allied operations in the 3rd Corps area terminated Sunday, been participating in them began Toa Thang on Monday.

Political Campaign to Gain Momentum After Lull Due to Slaying

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 1968 political campaign — at a virtual standstill since the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King and the violence it touched off — regained momentum today.

Sens. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., and Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., the only announced Democratic presidential candidates, planned campaigning in Indiana and Nebraska, respectively.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, reported ready to enter the Democratic race after Easter, was a likely candidate to throw out the first ball at the Washington Senators American League baseball season opener against the Minnesota Twins.

Republican Richard M. Nixon was the only announced presidential candidate with no campaign plans for the day.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller — citing "crisis and confusion probably without parallel in our history" — meanwhile announced he is readying major position statements on national and international issues.

All five of the political figures were among national leaders who attended King's funeral Tuesday in Atlanta.

Rockefeller said March 21 when he declared he was not a presidential candidate that he would speak out on the issues and try to influence his party's platform and philosophies.

He also said then that he

Total Halt to Bombing Is Planned

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration is reported laying groundwork for a total halt of North Vietnam bombing to test Hanoi's willingness to negotiate, the Washington Post said today.

President Johnson, in announcing the partial bombing halt March 31, said all bombing "could come to an early end — if our restraint is matched by restraint from Hanoi."

Post reporter Murray Marder quoted informed sources as believing Johnson is edging toward an option to assume Hanoi would show such restraint, with resumption of the bombing possible if Hanoi did not.

Marder noted Johnson has announced the relief of the Sanh, a vulnerable allied position in South Vietnam since March 31 when the President said:

"I cannot in conscience stop all bombing so long as to do so would immediately and directly endanger the lives of our men and our allies."

Johnson called Khe Sanh an enemy failure but Marder said: "The relief of Khe Sanh, however, inevitably eased some of the immediate and direct risk 'to the lives of our men and our allies.'"

The reporter noted the president made no reference to the restraint issue when he said Tuesday "we are back in touch with Hanoi."

Sanitation Fees to Be Increased

The City Board of Directors, at their regular meeting last night, discussed a proposal to form a Sewer Improvement District in an area West of the City, along West Avenue B, extending from the City limits to a point beyond the Hope Industrial Park.

The Board agreed that if the District is formed, they can tie into the City's sewer service provided the area is annexed to the City.

The City Manager suggested that the City make some attempt to develop sewer service to about 25 residents in an area around the intersection of Rose Hill Street and North Walnut. The Board asked that an engineering study be made to determine the cost and see what revenues might be available from the users to help pay the cost.

The Board discussed assisting the county in paying Hempstead County's part of the cost of financing Southwest Arkansas Economic Development District consisting of 12 counties. The district has requested a payment from Hempstead County of 10¢ per capita, which would amount to about $1,900.00. Any county in the State which is not a member of Economic Development District will not be eligible for any federal funds from the Economic Development Administration.

The Board reviewed a survey made by Sanitation Superintendent, Jewel May, of all the City's charges being made for the health program. He also presented a report of a survey just completed of sanitation programs in other cities of Arkansas. The survey of Hope's rates show that the charges will have to be increased by more than one-third to meet the operating costs.

The Sanitation Department schedule of rates which would produce enough to offset the present operating loss showed that Hope would still be quite a bit under the costs of this service in all the other cities surveyed. The Board ordered the necessary rate changes to be made as soon as records in the billing department can be completed. It is estimated that billing changes can be made and the increased charges appear on the June bills.

Humphrey to Plunge Into the Campaign

By JACK BELL
AP Political Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey will plunge into the race for the Democratic presidential nomination immediately after Easter.

The vice president now assesses his chances in a three-way contest with Sens. Robert S. Kennedy, D-N.Y., and Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., as "looking good."

He has told friends he is more encouraged to make the race than he has to ever been to run for office in his political life.

The Humphrey campaign, once it is launched, will be aimed at the heart of nomination strength—the state conventions in which the majority of convention delegates are chosen.

"Bid Boldly, Play Safe" is the title of a book by Rixi Marcus just published in this country. Rixi is one of the great women players of all time, and her style is to bid whenever she can do so and then play the cards well enough to prevent catastrophe.

Today's hand shows how to play at six no-trump and come out with an overtrick for a top score in duplicate. Needless to say, you don't risk your small slam in the process.

South's two no-trump rebid showed a minimum balanced opening, and North settled for the small slam. West made the safe lead of a low spade, and declarer ran off three spades and discarded a small diamond. Then he played dummy's ace and queen of hearts and noted that West discarded the ten of spades.

Thus West had started with one heart, four spades and eight minor suit cards while East had started with only five minor suit cards. Hence the odds were in favor of finding West with the queen of diamonds. South returned to his own hand with the king of diamonds and finessed the jack. When East showed out, a double squeeze developed automatically because only East could stop hearts and only West could stop diamonds.

All South had to do was to lead a diamond to the ace and cash dummy's last spade. East had to go down to two clubs to hold two hearts, whereupon South threw his small heart and led a heart to his king. This brought West down to two clubs also and all the clubs were good.

It should be noticed that West could have saved the overtrick by covering the jack of diamonds with the queen. This would have spoiled the timing for the squeeze. On the other hand, South could have developed it against any defense if he had not cashed three spade tricks.

sen. The vice president has neither the money nor the inclination to go into presidential primaries. In line with this he instructed his friends not to enter a delegate slate for him even in his native South Dakota.

Delegate lists for Kennedy and McCarthy are being organized for the June 4 primary there. But Rod Barnes, organizer of a South Dakota drive for Humphrey, said in Huron Tuesday he had been told not to enter any slate for the Vice President.

Humphrey is personally convinced he will have strong support from organized labor and the business community. This has been indicated in about 4,000 messages urging him to run after President Johnson's announcement that he would not accept renomination.

The vice president feels he will have strong support in the South, which was lining up to back Johnson before the President said he would not run.

Although Johnson himself has offered no active political support, many of the President's backers are pledging help to Humphrey.

The vice president thinks the refusal of some of Johnson's mainstays, such as Gov. Richard J. Hughes of New Jersey and Mayor Richard Daley of Chicago, to make any commitments to candidates after the President's withdrawal is all to the good, so far as he is concerned.

As the lone active contender for the nomination who has supported Johnson's Vietnam policies, Humphrey intends to be guided in campaigning on that issue by developments in the President's attempts to get negotiations going with the Communists.

His friends think any progress toward peace will benefit the vice president more than either Kennedy or McCarthy, who have been critical of Johnson's course.

Humphrey concedes that at this point he doesn't have the money necessary for a national campaign for the nomination. But he expects it to begin coming in after his formal announcement.
